SMUD makes the IDG Computerworld annual list of best places to work in information technology

The Sacramento Municipal Utility District (SMUD) was selected as one of the top workplaces for information technology (IT) professionals in the nation. SMUD ranked 40th in the nation among all companies and first in the West among small companies (2,500 employees or less). The recognition is part of the weekly IT publication's 15th annual Best Places to Work in IT survey.

Rankings are based on a comprehensive questionnaire regarding company offerings in categories such as benefits, diversity, career development, training and retention. In addition, this year Computerworld surveyed more than 31,000 workers for the list, and their responses factored heavily in determining the rankings.
