Use electricity more efficiently and get paid by SMUD with PowerDirect®

Arden Fair Mall, a staple in the Sacramento community for more than 60 years, has embraced sustainability through participating in SMUD's PowerDirect program. Through PowerDirect, Arden Fair Mall has been able to conserve about 1,738 kW of energy per month. This not only helps contribute to a cleaner, healthier Sacramento, but also automatically scales back your energy use when demand for electricity is at its peak.

The PowerDirect program uses automated demand response technology, allowing participants to reduce their energy use during peak demand periods. Enrolled customers can receive up to $175/kW of automated energy reduction or qualify for incentives that will offset up to 100% of the PowerDirect technology and equipment cost.

Thanks to this sustainable partnership, Arden Fair Mall earned the prestigious 2023 Sustainable Business Award from Sacramento County. Their commitment to environmental stewardship is an inspiring example to follow!

Become a SEED vendor and start doing business with SMUD

Did you know that in 2023 SMUD awarded over $50 million in contracts to local small businesses? Our Supplier Education and Economic Development (SEED) program offers incentives to small businesses that participate in our competitive bid process and helps prime contractors find local SEED sub-contractors. We're committed to awarding 20% or more of all contracts to SEED vendors and suppliers, which is between $40-$60 million.
